

This condition affects approximately 1 in 100 people in Australia. Babies, Children, adolescents adults and aged citizens from all socio economic streams are susceptible to this genetic condition.

The Coeliac Society of SA is a non government funded, not for profit organisation, administered solely by a group of dedicated volunteers.

The Society relies on membership fees to maintain the present level of support to people with the condition and has a close alliance with the national group. The committee organises high quality, informative public events for Coeliac Awareness Week held during March each year in Adelaide.

The focus of The Coeliac Society is to:

- Promote public awareness of children and adults with coeliac disease
- Provide coping skills for adults and children suffering from coeliac disease, dermatitis herpetiformis and diabetes
- Support the parents of coeliac children
- Assist people to enjoy optimum health through a safely managed diet

Community requests for information and support is steadily increasing, therefore the work of the Coeliac Society of South Australia is an important contributing factor to improved health for many South Australian families.
